PATTEN IS BACK.

Directs Campaign Secretly.

"King of Wheat Pit" Hidden at Home Sends Up Prices Again.

Special Telephone Wire Between House at Evansville and Office.

Brokers Suspicious Because of Market's Action; Mystery Solved.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James A. Patten has come back "out of the West" and has resumed his position as "king of the wheat pit."

True, his arrival was not announced with a blaze of trumpets or a megaphone, nor has he made any public appearance since he reached here. He remains in his Evansville residence, where every precaution has been taken to keep his presence a secret from the inquiring public.

He reached Evansville last Monday morning and has not been in his office, but it developed today he is directing his campaign from his home, which he has connected with his office by a special telephone wire.

A few people, of course, knew Mr. Patten had returned and not all of them could keep the secret; that is the way it leaked out. Brokers on the floor of the Board of Trade have been suspicious since early in the week that the hand of the general was once more at the helm, as the buying and manipulation in July wheat since Monday has been on a scale which usually indicates the presence of the intrepid "Jim" Patten.

SCOUTS ON TRAIL.

Scouts were sent over to his office and made absolutely certain he was not there. Yet the rumors would not die down, and it became noted about that time a special wire had been strung to the Bartlett ranch near Vermorel Park, Colo., and that he was directing the campaign from there. That was the generally accepted belief on the floor during the day until some one took the trouble to investigate through friends in the telephone companies and discovered that no such wire had been strung.

Servants and members of the Patten family have been instructed to keep his presence an absolute secret. He has not been seen by any Evansvilleans, having confined his outdoor exercise, it is said, to nocturnal walks along unfrequented streets and around his own grounds.

Even after a reporter learned positively that Mr. Patten was here he called up the house and a woman's voice answered.

"Is Mr. Patten there?" asked the reporter.

"No," replied the voice.

FEARFUL PLIGHT.

The method in which crooks work is shown by the recent attempt to smuggle a revolver into the Alameda County Jail by the hand, which was defeated only by the accidental death of the bearer of messages instructing those on the outside how to "do the trick."

Joseph Clark was this messenger. He served ninety days in the County Jail for petty larceny and when he was released he carried with him a letter from Clifton to four notorious ex-convicts, whose names the authorities are holding.

The letter instructed the ex-convicts to purchase and smuggle into the County Jail a small nine-room factory. This is the language of the yeggman for a Colt's automatic revolver. The ex-convicts were instructed to select one of their number, dress him well so as not to excite suspicion, and have him visit James Murphy, a prisoner in the jail, and a confederate of Clifton in the recent attempted jail break.

The emissary was to carry the weapon in his right hand, outside coat pocket wrapped in a "swipe" (handkerchief).

STAGE CAREFULLY SET.

The letter also suggested that, to divert suspicion, a woman accompany the bearer of the weapon, who was to pose as a relative of Murphy, who had come to visit him on first learning of the trouble which had landed him in jail.

It was thus hoped that Murphy might be permitted to talk to the visitors in a private room, where the chance to pass the weapon without detection would be greater.

Clark went straight to San Francisco from the County Jail, and there met his fate. Attempting to board a car, apparently to find the crooks to whom the letter was addressed, he was struck by a Mission-street car and was fatally injured. He was removed to the Harbor Emergency Hospital, and died a few hours later. At the morgue the letter was found on his person and turned over to the Alameda authorities by Captain of Police Anderson of San Francisco.

Clark received his injuries on March 27, and on April 2, about the day of his death, occurred the attempt to break out of the County Jail, led by Clifton, in which Chief Jailer P. L. White was severely beaten.

SULTAN'S MONEY SAFE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

VIENNA, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Bank of England, which holds the largest portion of Abdul Hamid's wealth, refuses to plank to deliver up the late Sultan's cash at the demands of the Young Turk committee. The French, German and Italian banks likewise refuse.

Meanwhile the committee is trying every possible means to coerce Abdul Hamid into signing checks in their favor for all his money, but this procedure is already attracting the attention of the powers. It is well known that the Emperor of Russia, the kings of Italy and Greece and other monarchs are all interested in the matter.

EVERY MAN KILLED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

MARASH, May 5.—A letter received by messenger from Marash says that every man there has been killed. Only women and boys under 16 years of age have been left alive.

The churches and houses were plundered and most of them were burned. The letter, from the widow of a clergyman, says:

"We have nothing to eat or wear. We are living on grass like animals. Worse than this, the Moslems are trying to force the women and girls to become Mohammedans. Already some of the women have been carried away."

Lucius O. Lee, a missionary here, says: "We are trying to send food to Marash, although it is dangerous, and bring away the women as well."

Much excitement has been caused here by the attempts of the authorities to arrest some of those who have murdered Christians.

RESCUED FROM TURKS, FAMINE THREATENS.

People of Hadjin Face Massacre When Troops Arrive and Now Are Without Food—Every Man in Marash Slain—Women Enslaved.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

HADJIN (Asiatic Turkey) May 5.—Notwithstanding the presence of troops here, the situation is desperate because of the lack of food and medical supplies.

The troops arrived just in time as the besiegers had succeeded in setting fire to a house on the edge of the city. The fire spread, but as the breeze was blowing away from the town, only five buildings were destroyed.

A heavy rifle fire was kept up against those who tried to extinguish the flames.

The Mohammedans outside the walls, who seemingly numbered many thousands, pushed their attacks energetically against the inhabitants, killing and wounding many. They were so eager to get inside the city and plunder the place that they did not observe the approach of Lutfi Bey and his troops until they were close upon them, whereupon the Mohammedans fled precipitately, carrying off all the cattle outside the city.

The Christian clergy and the whole population welcomed their deliverers with great rejoicing. Col. Lutfi visited the churches and schools and placed guards at various points.

Since then there has been no internal disorder, and no danger from the Mohammedans, but the famine is increasing and starvation faces thousands.

TWINSON COME TO VETERAN.

Septuagenarian Confederate Is Father of Fine Nine-Pound Boys.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Andrew Jackson Miller, aged 78, veteran of the Civil War, having served as a member of Co. I, Sixty-first Tennessee Infantry, C.S.A., was today presented by his fourth wife, Mrs. Margaret Miller, aged 48, with fine twins, both boys.

They weigh nine pounds each and are so much alike that a red ribbon was tied about one and a white ribbon about the other to preserve their identity. One will be named for the father and the other for Gen. Robert E. Lee.

The old soldier and his wife are both very happy over their double blessing. The father wears a chronic smile.

"Is he in the city?" persisted the reporter.

"I do not know," answered the voice. "Has he returned from the West?" said the reporter.

"I have not seen him," replied the voice.

The receiver then was hung up at the other end.

From excellent sources, however, it has been learned that Mr. Patten was peevish about the publicity given his career before he left the city. His presence was absolutely necessary here and he came back.

There is a bit of corroborative evidence that he has returned in the announcement that his brother and first lieutenant, Henry J. Patten, is about to leave for his country home in Kentucky where he and Mrs. Patten will entertain a house party.

WHEAT AGAIN SOARING.

Wheat has been soaring since "Jim" Patten's return. May wheat made a new record during the day, going to $1.29, a quarter of a point higher than the previous high record on April 15, and July wheat has climbed back to $1.17, since April 27, when it struck the bottom mark of $1.05. However, that option has not yet reached the highest point in its career, which was $1.15, on the same day that May went to $1.24. Nor did the market retain its advance today. May closing where it was Tuesday night, $1.28 and July 1/4 to 3/4 more than the previous close.

Patten's house has been a heavy buyer of July wheat since Monday. Once in awhile they feel the market out and try to sell a little wheat but so far every time their brokers have detected selling wheat the rest of the crowd shies away and the market has a sharp break. So far as can be learned there is little trading by the public, which was badly stung by the cent break which followed Patten's sudden flight to Colorado and have not recuperated either their finances or their courage enough to get into the market.

Patten's position is practically the same as that in which Joseph Letter found himself at the time when he was running his famous, though unsuccessful corner. He is obliged to carry his operations over into July in order to hold the price of that option up and to give him a chance to merchandise the cash wheat.

San Quentin Inmate Tries to Have Confederates Hold Boy for Ransom.

Plot Revealed by Prisoner Who Was to Carry the Message.

Same Man Once Before Was Caught When Accomplice Was Killed.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The plot of a convict in San Quentin to have the young son of Gov. Gillett seized and held for ransom, the ransom to be the pardon of the convict, was only frustrated by the confession of the accomplice, made to Warden Hoyle. In his cell, J. B. Clifton conceived the idea of having the Governor's son kidnaped and attempted to convey his order to the members of his gang on the outside, through a letter to be carried to him by two prisoners about to be discharged. Those listened to Clifton's instructions and then told the details of the plot to Warden Hoyle.

"A wild dream," Warden Hoyle calls it, but the record of Clifton contains other wild chapters and one in particular, in which a similar coup was attempted. At that time Clifton, who has served many sentences, was a prisoner in the Alameda County Jail and actually succeeded in getting a letter carried out by a prisoner whose term had expired. This plan miscarried when the messenger was killed by a street car and the letter fell into the hands of a morgue attendant.

SERVING LIFE SENTENCE.

Clifton is one of the most notorious criminals in the State, who is serving a life sentence for attempting the life of Detective St. Clair Hodgkins of Oakland. He has also served two prior terms, one at Folsom and another at San Quentin, for burglary and robbery.

Ten days ago, according to Warden Hoyle, two prisoners told him Clifton asked them if they would be willing to carry a letter to friends of his on the outside when they were discharged. The prisoners further said that Clifton wanted them to arrange to kidnap the Governor's little son and hold him for a ransom.

Warden Hoyle said today:

"I took no action in the matter, but ignored it entirely. I made no investigation further than to have the correspondence of Clifton's searched with a view to ascertaining if he has any friends on the outside. I found he had none. I did not care to give him the importance or consideration of a regular investigation, and think he only had a dream."

"When prisoners are discharged from prison they are first stripped to the skin and then are given new clothes in another room. It is possible some such idea might have passed through the mind of Clifton, but it never got any further than that."

PLAN TO GET GUN.

The method in which crooks work is shown by the recent attempt to smuggle a revolver into the Alameda County Jail by the hand, which was defeated only by the accidental death of the bearer of messages instructing those on the outside how to "do the trick."

Joseph Clark was this messenger. He served ninety days in the County Jail for petty larceny and when he was released he carried with him a letter from Clifton to four notorious ex-convicts, whose names the authorities are holding.

STAGE CAREFULLY SET.

The letter also suggested that, to divert suspicion, a woman accompany the bearer of the weapon, who was to pose as a relative of Murphy, who had come to visit him on first learning of the trouble which had landed him in jail.

It was thus hoped that Murphy might be permitted to talk to the visitors in a private room, where the chance to pass the weapon without detection would be greater.

KINGSTOWN (St. Vincent, B. W. I.) May 5.—It may be that Capt. Collin Stephenson and the crew of the American whaling ship Carrie D. Knowles, long since thought to have been lost at sea, are still alive in a Venezuelan prison.

An American seaman named Payne, an escaped prisoner from Venezuela, has made his way to Kingstown, where he laid before the authorities an astounding story of the seizure of the Carrie D. Knowles at a Venezuelan port, where he arrived three years ago in distress and of the imprisonment of the crew. A speedy investigation will be made.

On January 27, 1904, the Carrie D. Knowles sailed from Provincetown, Mass., on a whaling voyage. She was supposed to have been lost in a West Indian storm with all hands. Some of the men belonged in St. Vincent, and after all hope was given up of their return, their relatives put on mourning and the local insurance company eventually paid claims on the assumption that the sailors were dead.

CAUSES EXCITEMENT.

Payne's story caused great excitement, not only because of the seriousness of the charges against the Venezuelan authorities, but because it added another to the many tales reaching St. Vincent, of the high-handed methods adopted by the Venezuelans under Castro.

Payne declared that the whaler had been disabled in a storm off the Venezuelan coast and had made port in distress. She was at once seized and the captain and crew made prisoners.

He states all the men are alive, but still closely confined.

The details of Payne's escape from prison are not known. It is possible, however, that he is one of the score or more prisoners who escaped from the penitentiary at Maracaibo about two weeks ago.

LONG SILENCE FOR CONGRESS.

Adjournment no Earlier Than June Fifteenth.

Income Tax Last Resort, Is President's View.

Reading of Bill Is Resumed by Senate.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, May 5.—The possibility of the passage of the tariff bill and the adjournment of the special session of Congress before June 15, or July 1, seem to have vanished.

This conclusion has been reached by the President as a result of recent talks with Senators and Representatives and he made it known today. The Senate is not making the headway that was expected and before a new tariff can be presented to the President there must ensue a long conference between the Representatives of the two Houses.

In view of conflicting reports as to the President's attitude on the special session proposition, he has reiterated his position to recent callers. If it should be shown, however, that further revenues are needed, the President will adhere to his original proposition that a graduated inheritance tax is the most just that could be levied.

If such a tax should not prove sufficient, or if it should not appeal to the majority of Congress, the President favors the imposition of an excise tax on the dividends of corporations.

An income tax, he has always believed, should be levied only as a last resort.

READING RESUMED.

The reading of the tariff bill and the adoption of amendments passed over when the measure was first read, was resumed today, having been displaced since April 23 by speeches of Senators who have discussed the tariff measure.

On motion of Senator Aldrich, the duty on blue vitriol, or sulphate of copper, was reduced from 10 to 5 cents per pound, and 25 per cent. ad valorem. Instead of 50 cents and 20 per cent. as fixed in the House bill, called forth Democratic opposition, and long discussion followed on the lower level of Japanese labor, which produces much of the celluloid that competes with the American product. The higher duties were retained.

Amendments on the schedules for lead ore and for products from which paint is manufactured, called forth a storm of criticism. Senator Brewster moved that the House's provision of 25 cents per pound instead of 35 cents per pound, on orange mineral, as proposed by the committee, be retained, this being the first of the committee's series of amendments relating to lead that was reached.

HEYBURN ANGRY.

The regular order being called for on a demand by Mr. Brewster for an amendment, the roll call began. Mr. Heyburn attempted to take the floor and the chair ruled it was too late to interrupt the roll. A murmur of protest was heard in the Senate chamber. Mr. Heyburn angrily announced: "If we start in that spirit there will be trouble."

The vote on orange mineral was regarded as a test, and the rate proposed by the committee of 25 cents per pound, instead of 35 cents, was agreed to, 41 to 25.

When the duty on white lead was reached, Mr. Brewster renewed his objection to the increase in the tariff.

The men who want this increase are," declared Mr. Brewster with great animation, "but the man who pays the bill is at home, and that is why I voted against these increases."

Senator Crawford of South Dakota, in an impassioned address, said: "We came here with the idea that we were to revise these schedules downward, and I shall vote that way unless good reason is shown why I should vote otherwise."

DOLLIVER RESUMES.

When Senator Dolliver resumed his speech on the wool and cotton tariff, he read from a newspaper printed in New York, which he added, "for years by years have been watching for the spiritual side of the Senator from Massachusetts" (Mr. Lodge), a statement to the effect that Mr. Lodge said that as reported by the Committee on Finance, the cotton schedule as amended by the committee was "of great value to Massachusetts."

The same article, he said, also appeared in a Boston paper.

Mr. Lodge, appearing in the chamber at this moment, made inquiry, to which Mr. Dolliver replied that he (Mr. Lodge) was quoted that "the ad valorem rate on cotton had been increased."

Mr. Lodge said that it must be a misquotation.

"I stated," he said, "the ad valorem rate had not been increased."

"Then," responded Mr. Dolliver, promptly, "you were mistaken in stating that. I have demonstrated to the Senate, and if you did not state that to the Boston newspaper, you omitted a very important part of your duty."

Referring to the board of appraisers at New York as "elder statesmen who failed to be reflected," Mr. Dolliver explained the mercantile situation, declaring that the 1 cent a yard for that or similar processes provided in the bill was in excess of the cost of mercantile.

WASTE IN WASHING HANDS.

Mr. Smoot declared cotton lost something in mercantile.

"Yes," replied Mr. Dolliver, "the process of mercantile is like washing your hands—you lose a little in the waste."

Mr. Dolliver said the time was coming when the controversy in the tariff would be transferred by law to a tribunal where it could be passed upon, with more wisdom than a person was liable to meet about the corridors of the Capitol.

Mr. Dolliver warned his colleagues that if this tariff bill should be put through without amendment it would cause an immediate country-wide demand for another revision.

Replying to Mr. Dolliver's remarks, Mr. Aldrich said that when the woolen and cotton schedules were reached he would show that, in the cotton schedule, no important change from the House bill had been made except in the substitution of specific for ad valorem duties and a raise in the taxes on clothes. This substitution had been made, he said, to prevent undervaluation. Mr. Bailey declared there was no schedule in the tariff which of the entire protective systems as well as the woolen schedule. Mr. Aldrich prophesied that within twenty years the representatives of the South in the Senate would vote with the Republicans for protection. Mr. Carter asserted that the difference in wages in this country and South America and other wool-producing countries would justify a tariff of 200 per cent. on wool and woolens. He declared the Dingley law "was the wisest and best-balanced tariff law anybody ever knew."

Under the law, Mr. Carter declared, the people changed from the condition of being taxed to the happy attitude of independent workmen.

He thought a series of resolutions amending certain schedules of that law which had been rendered desirable would have been much better "than this Pandora's box, which in a thoughtless moment we opened."

The new Philippine tariff bill, which will be a supplementary measure to the Payne tariff bill, will be reported to the House tomorrow. The Ways and Means Committee today agreed to the measure as redrafted.

Petroleum and its products are placed on the free list, to which sides also are added. Light railroads and tramways are provided with a lower duty.

MILWAUKEE DETECTIVE CREATES BIG SENSATION.

Tells of Witnessing Payment of $35,000 to Wisconsin Assemblymen to Remain Away from Legislative Session to Insure Election of Senator Stephenson.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) MADISON (Wis.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] F. T. Wegner, who says he is a private detective in Milwaukee, created a decided sensation today by testifying before the Senatorial investigation committee that he saw M. J. Reagan of Milwaukee pay three Democratic Assemblymen $35,000 to remain away from the joint legislative session on March 4, in order that the supporters of Senator Stephenson could have a majority of the votes cast to re-elect him.

Wegner said that the money was paid to three Assemblymen in room No. 152 of the Plankinton House in Milwaukee on February 23. Wegner was in an adjoining room and peered through the transom over a door between the two rooms, he said. He named Assemblymen Ramsey, Farrell and Towne as the three Assemblymen who received the money.

When asked to describe the Assemblymen, Wegner was unable to do so accurately. He said Ramsey had a dark mustache and weighed 175 pounds. Ramsey does not wear a mustache and weighs 300 pounds. All three of the accused Assemblymen tonight issued statements, absolutely denying the charges and declaring that Wegner had perjured himself. They said they could prove that they were not anywhere near the Plankinton House on the day in question, and one says he was not in Milwaukee on that day.

SOCIALIST BREAKS IN.

Tries to Capture Peace Congress by Introducing Resolution Eleber.

ating His Hobby.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) CHICAGO, May 5.—"War clouds in the United States have a propensity for darkening the horizon just before the matter of army and navy appropriations comes up. This was proved by the recent Japanese trouble in California."

Congressman Bartholdt made this statement tonight in an address at a banquet that closed the second National Peace Congress here.

He made it to the benefit of K. Matsumura, Japanese Consul at Chicago, who sat next him.

Mr. Bartholdt smilingly declared that the western agitation had resulted in no impairment of the good relations between the United States and Japan. A. M. Simon, editor of a socialist daily newspaper published here, offered a resolution that jarred the meeting. He alluded to the "exploitation of labor and the impoverishment of those who toil," declared that the cause of war lies deep in the industrial and economic life of the nation, and closed as follows:

"Resolved, that this congress recognize in the international political organization the working class; the international socialist movement, with its 470 representatives in the national parliaments of the world, its thousands of officials in lesser legislative bodies, its 4,000,000 workers and its millions of millions of affiliated labor organizations—all openly and avowedly committed to uncompromising opposition to militarism and capitalism, and to the greatest peace force in the world."

After a lively discussion the Simon resolution was tabled by a standing vote. The minority was numbered 3 to 1.

NOT FRENCHMEN SUSPENDED.

PARIS, May 5.—The government, which has decided to make a determined effort to put down the "syndicalist" movement as far as it affects state employees, today ordered that a new batch of state employees be suspended for making violent speeches. The agitation continues feverishly.

HATES AUTOS, THOUGH DEAD.

PARIS, May 5.—M. Gilbert, a retired merchant, whose declining years have been made miserable by speeding automobiles, has requested the government to French churches for masses for the repose of the souls of the victims of the "diabolical machine that has poisoned my last days."

DINGLEY LAW BASIS.

TARIFF BILL ANALYZED BY OPPOSING LEADERS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, May 5.—In the Senate today Mr. Aldrich, representing the Finance Committee, and Mr. Culberson, minority leader, analyzed the tariff bill as it was reported to the Senate, and compared it, so far as increases and reductions were concerned, with the Dingley law.

Senator Culberson figured the decreases to be 22, the increases 216, and the number of articles on which duties were unchanged to be 1271.

Mr. Aldrich made the reductions 279, but gave no figures as to the number of increases.

He expressed surprise at the number of increases suggested by Mr. Culberson and declared the statement must have been prepared by "a very wretched

AUDIENCE TO LEMON PLEA.

President—Favorably Impressed by Arguments.

California Delegation Makes Good Showing.

Introduced at White House by Mr. Flint.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] California lemon growers were given audience today by the President, and their arguments for an increased rate of duty seemed to make a favorable impression on him.

Senator Flint and Congressman Smith, who introduced the party, included Senator L. A. Wright of San Diego, A. F. Call of Corona, and Senator Stanford of Fresno, and Charles. Call was chosen to open the case. He made a concise argument, and was followed by Woodford, who showed a clear grasp of the question. Wright also spoke briefly but with apparent effect.

It was stated that while California met but 45 per cent. of the demand for lemons in the entire country, the balance being supplied by Sicily, many lemons rotted in the orchards because at times it was impossible for the California fruit to enter the New York market and compete with the cheap fruit from Sicily.

By increasing the duty to 14 cents per pound, it was stated, California would have its selling territory so enlarged that it would be possible to move the crop without loss, and prices would average less to consumers while netting more to growers by eliminating losses through uncertainty of the trade.

The President seemed to be very favorably impressed. He asked questions which showed that he had given attention to the subject, and the delegation left him in an optimistic mood.

WRIGHT EXPLAINS BILLS.

San Diego Senator Did Not Intend to Bar Women as School Superintendents.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Wright of San Diego, now here, had his attention called today to editorials in California papers commenting on the fact that his primary bill discriminated against women school superintendents.

Now Wright has never been noted for his predilection in favor of suffrage, and he really prefers men as superintendents of schools, but he avers that he had not the slightest intention of discriminating against women for his bill. He might change the wording of the law if he had it to do over, but he is not really sure about that even.

The Senator also noted that the question has been raised whether his anti-pass bill would prevent railroads from employing women as conductors. He had not intended to make the bill quite so sweeping, and he would favor permitting public bodies which might employ women to be in the interest of State development to travel free.

SMITH LEAVING MANILA.

Many Banquets and Functions Are Being Given for Retiring Governor-General.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) MANILA, May 5.—Gov. Gen. James Smith, who has secured a long leave of absence, will leave here next Saturday. He will go first to Japan, where he will embark on board the Minnesota for Seattle.

From Seattle he will go to San Francisco and then to Washington for a conference with President Taft.

Gen. Smith has been busy for the last fortnight attending a series of farewell entertainments, which are being tendered him. Tonight the Army and Navy Club will give him a farewell reception, and tomorrow night all of the political parties will lay aside their differences and unite in giving a banquet at which he will be the guest of honor.

Vice-Gov. W. Cameron Forbes will be host at the last dinner to be given to the departing Governor-General. This affair will take place Friday night.

COMING HOME TO STAY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, May 5.—Gov. Gen. Smith, who is coming home on leave of absence, will not return to Manila in that capacity. This was recently announced at the War Department, and the official confirmation is that Vice-Gov. Cameron Forbes will be appointed to succeed Gen. Smith.

MESSANGER BOY HURT.

A. G. McMillen, a messenger boy, while riding on a wheel at Third and Los Angeles streets, last night, was thrown from his bicycle and injured. A. E. Austin, receiving slight injury. He was taken to his home for treatment.

ADMITS LAMP THEFT.

H. S. Miller was arrested last night by police detectives for stealing two lamps and a box of matches from a garage at Twelfth and Grand avenues. Miller confesses to the crime. He was found carrying the lamps. He lives at No. 124 South Main street.

MRS. SELBY AS SIREN.

Wife of New Yorker Says Kid McCoy's Spouse Lured Away Husband.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Agnes Sanger, wife of Mark W. Sanger, president of the Premier Rubber Tire Works, went to the Harlem court this afternoon and secured from Magistrate Crane a summons for Mrs. Norman Selby, wife of "Kid" McCoy, on the allegation that Mrs. Selby had alienated the affections of Mr. Sanger.

Mrs. Selby, who was married to the prize fighter in 1901, and subsequently divorced and remarried to him three times, now lives at the Hanover Apartments. Her husband is now in Europe, according to reports.

Mrs. Sanger told Magistrate Crane that her husband had not been at his home since last Saturday and that in the meantime she had found him drinking wine with Mrs. Selby in the latter's rooms. He fled by way of the fire escape and Mrs. Selby, joined him in flight with the aid of an automobile.

That such sums should be escheated, at a moment when the misfortune against which it was intended to provide, should come, affords a very unfortunate precedent.

The Young Turks party is pursuing toward Abdul Hamid a policy which is here considered very unworthy of it, and if persisted in, it may easily lead to intervention from without. It is a policy of bloody retribution and bad reports are coming in as to the popular sentiments in Asia Minor and Albania. It is not to be expected that a constitution founded on bloodshed and bayonets.

RICH TREASURE IN PALACE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CONSTANTINOPLE, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The commission which is taking an inventory of the property at the imperial palace at Yildiz Kiosk, has recovered, according to the Turkish press, a treasure of the value of $2,500,000, and a large quantity of jewelry, including a rosary alone valued at $175,000. Papers seized at the palace showed that Abdul Hamid has something over $5,000,000 on deposit in a foreign bank. The Chamber of Deputies has unanimously approved the suggestion of the Cabinet that the sum of $150,000 be appropriated for the relief of the sufferers in the Adana district.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) ADANA, May 5.—The French Jesuit girls' school was burned Saturday evening. Many persons are dying from exposure.

OBITUARY.

George W. Harvey.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—George W. Harvey, widely known as a restaurateur, died here today, aged 69 years. Hundreds of people of national prominence knew him.

Horace St. George Voules.

LONDON, May 5.—Horace St. George Voules, editor of Truth, died yesterday. He was born at Windsor April 23, 1844. Horace St. George Voules established in 1868 the Echo, the first half-penny evening paper in 1874 he arranged with Henry Labouchere to start Truth, which was first published in January, 1877. He has been the editor of Truth ever since.

J. J. Englewood.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—J. J. Englewood, a well-known member of the furniture goods firm of Englewood & Co., died last night at the corner of Stockton and Geary streets. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause.

STATE ROADS LOSE MONEY.

Government Ownership Fails in Canada.

Two Lines Show Deficit for Past Year.

Hard Times Not Responsible for Condition.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Government ownership of railroads in Canada has not turned out to be a profitable investment for the people. The Dominion government owns and operates the Inter-Colonial and the Prince Edward Island roads. Gross earnings of the lines for the twelve months ended on March 31, last, amounted to $9,444,568, and operating expenses to $9,585,285, leaving a deficit of $140,716, although there were no interest charges to be met and no unusual amount was spent for maintenance.

Taken together, the two roads are 1748 miles long, of which the Inter-Colonial is 1449 miles, and the Prince Edward Island, 299 miles. The bulk of the earnings was from the Inter-Colonial, the gross being $9,175,559, and operating expenses $9,157,436, leaving net earnings of $118,123. This makes the Prince Edward Island road responsible for the entire deficit.

This poor showing does not appear to have been the result of depressed times, for gross earnings of the Inter-Colonial were $867,175 greater than those of the preceding year. Both passenger and freight tariff showed a substantial increase.

NEW BUTTE RAILWAY.

OREGON SHORT LINE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) BUTTE (Mont.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Incorporation papers, filed yesterday by J. L. Winesap for the Oregon Short Line and the Hartman interests, herald the building of a new railroad line into Butte to be known as the Montana, Idaho and Pacific, capitalized at $15,000,000, and to connect the Oregon Short Line at Butte with the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company at Lapwai Junction, Idaho. The line will run from Lapwai Junction, through the middle of the Clearwater, through Nez Perce county to the Bitter Root Mountains, which it will cross through the Lolo Pass, thence it will go by the easiest route to Missoula, thence through Missoula, Granite, Powell and Deer Lodge counties to Butte, where it will connect with the Great Northern. The distance to be covered is 150 miles.

The new road will traverse a section untapped by any railroad. The company paid a filing fee in this State of $1500.

MORE IMMIGRANTS COME.

FIGURES SHOW BIG INCREASE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The arrival of immigrants at New York continued to increase steadily. For the first three months of the current year the Immigration Bureau of the Western Passenger Association handled at that point 139,554 immigrants, as compared with 65,982 for the corresponding period last year. The revenue derived by western roads from handling of these newcomers amounted to $274,641, as compared with $126,281 last year, an increase of 119.02 per cent. The March revenue from business amounted to $139,923 as compared with $151,871 or the same month last year, an increase of $88,050 or 169.67 per cent.

INCREASE IN WISCONSIN.

TAXES HIGHER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) MADISON (Wis.) May 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Tax Commission today assessed the railroad property in Wisconsin for taxation purposes at $274,948,000, an increase of $7,085,500 over last year. The total taxes levied on the property are $54,148,888, an increase of $9,146 over those of last year. The rate of taxation, which is the average on all other taxable property in the State, is fixed at $1.43 per $1000 of valuation, a reduction of 5 cents per $1000. The commission assessed the telegraph company property at $1,573,000, and taxed it $21,400, which is slightly less than last year.

Bond Mortgage Foreclosed.

JACKSON (Mig.) May 5.—A bill was filed in the Federal Court here today to foreclose the bond mortgages on the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City and Gulf and Chicago railroads, amounting to about $8,000,000. It is expected that the owners of the two roads will purchase the property at foreclosure sales.

Los Angeles Loses Through Costly Errors.

Game at Pasadena Draws a Good-Sized Crowd.

Pasadena, 6; Los Angeles, 5. Pasadena got its first taste of Coast baseball yesterday in a game transferred from this city, and from the way the fans turned out it is very evident that with a course of education the town might be made to produce a lot of real fans who would be interested in the game. The game was a pretty good one, with a lot of errors on the part of the Los Angeles team. The game was a pretty good one, with a lot of errors on the part of the Los Angeles team.

Of the 1200 or 1300 persons present the big majority applauded the good days enthusiastically; were politely silent at the bad ones, and seemed to be afraid that it was not quite proper to violently address the umpire as a house fighter and a murderer of innocent children.

Forgetting the proprieties, the personnel of the fans was high class, and was good for the sport to see such a crowd of people, turning out for a ball game. What they saw must have been a pretty good one, with a lot of errors on the part of the Los Angeles team.

Of course, one or two swear words were heard from the ball field during the game, but these were none other than the dear, old familiar ones that we have heard so often in the past.

As a matter of fact, a better one would not have hurt Los Angeles yesterday, for Koestner was far from being right. He was soaked for four innings and nine singles, made two wild pitches, one ball and one error.

REINFORCED iron roofs, concrete

Complaints were filed with

The Aero Club of California is holding with an exhibit, and one of the features is a large captive balloon. This goes right up in the air when it reaches the end of a enormous cable to which it is attached. It stops. Then comes the pulling of sand. Oftentimes the balloon does not reach the end of the cable. When this is the case the balloonist looks over the side of the basket, picks a victim, and drops him on the head with a bag of sand.

AMERICAN CLOTHES IN LONDON.

Our Suits and Topcoats Make a Hit
the First Time Englishmen
See Them.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) May 1.—London is wearing American clothes. Men of fashion in the British capital have this spring, for the first time, been able to examine and purchase American-made clothing. They have been not a little surprised to find that the American morning suit—or sack suit, as it is called on this side—and the inevitable frock coat for afternoon wear may be secured ready to wear and fitting perfectly with the dash and style which Englishmen have long admired in the best dressed Americans.

From a trade standpoint, this is one of the most important developments of recent years, as it has always been believed that it would be carrying coats to Newcastle to send men's clothes from any other country into England.
The American firm upon whom the honor of this British patronage has been conferred is the Stein-Bloch Company.

Early in the present year Selfridge & Co., Ltd., one of the great London department stores, became convinced that the higher grade of American-made clothes would come nearer meeting the requirements of the critical Englishman, with his shrewd eye for quality and general workmanship, than anything made in England.

An experienced buyer, well acquainted with the English buying public, was sent to America to look into the clothing situation.
This buyer hardly anticipated that so many Englishmen would desert their home tailors, knowing the conservatism of the average resident of London concerning his clothes.

After an extended tour of America and an examination of the product of the best clothing makers of this country, this representative of Selfridge &
Co., Ltd., gave the order to the Stein-Bloch Company.

The success of the American clothes
in the London market was instantaneous.
It was another distinct American hit. Within a fortnight the supply that had been purchased in America was depleted, and the English firm cabled to the Stein-Bloch Company to send a representative to London for a further order.

THE PENGUIN'S WINGS.
Evidence That They Were Once Used for Swimming Purposes When Pursuing Prey.

[Chicago Tribune.] Ornithological puzzles are the penguins, with their curiously-shaped wings and old unibirdlike upright carriage. The peculiarities of their wings suggest that the penguins are descendants of birds which used their wings rather than legs in the pursuit of prey under water, and as the struggle intensified between the competing individuals the most expert at this sort of swimming would get the most food and oust their less successful rivals. The wings gained advantage over their neighbors in proportion as their wings improved as swimming organs, and inversely and of necessity became less suited to perform the work of flight.

In all other birds the feathers,
though shed annually, are more or less gradually displaced, but in the penguins the new feathers all start into being at the same time and thrust out the old feathers upon their flight; so that these come away in great flakes.
Whereas, in all birds, save penguins, the new feathers as they thrust their way through the skin and in penguins, the feathers are held to their succeedors until they have attained a sufficient length to insure protection against cold.

The curious device for retaining the warmth afforded by the old feathers until the new generation can fill their places is apparently due to the fact that penguins are natives of the an-tartic regions, although some now inhabit the tropical seas.

Trying to Avoid Ditch While Learning to Drive Auto He Runs into Fence and Is Rushed Back to Town
by Chauffeur—Japanese Study Oil Situation.

BAKERSFIELD, May 5.—Tracy N.
Stebbins, a prominent Los Angeles machinery man, narrowly escaped death here last night, when the automobile which he was learning to drive, ran into a barbed wire fence, as Stebbins attempted to avoid a ditch.

The chauffeur, who also was injured, brought Stebbins back to Bakersfield in a record time, though the injured man nearly died to death on the way, you know. A hundred and fifty stitches were necessary to close the cuts in his face.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

THURSDAY

GET READY FOR— ELKS IN JULY TAFT IN SEPT

"Bills receivable."

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Architect at Glendale.
The architect of the First Methodist Sunday-school will take its annual outing today, going on a trolley ride to Glendale. A concert will be given under the direction of the Glendale Board of Trade.

Open, Money Gone.
Mrs. M. Hamlin of No. 1361 East twenty-third street reported to the post yesterday the theft of $37 from her home. She visited a neighbor for a few minutes, leaving the front door open during her absence.

Republican politicians will gather tonight at a smoker to be given by the Elks Club in its rooms on the second floor of the Candler building, No. 300 Broadway. Refreshments will be served, and it is probable that there will be an informal discussion of plans for the municipal campaign next fall.

Elks' Church Grows.
At the quarterly meeting of the Elks' Church, held at the Elks' Club, it was determined to raise a fund of $500 for the building of a new church, making more commodious and modern. The congregation has increased greatly under the leadership of Rev. W. A. Nightingale, and the advance movement necessary for the welfare of the organization.

Chamber of Commerce will hold its Order of Railroad Meetings to hold its next meeting, 1911, this city. The organization will hold its biennial session at Atlanta, Ga., on the 10th inst., and President both will send an official invitation to be read at that meeting. It will appoint delegates to the National Convention to be held at Spokane, Wash., August 3 to 14.

Public Health Commission.
The public health commission, which is the far-reaching title of a meeting to be held by the commission, in Temple Auditorium on Friday evening, May 14. It will be the usual May meeting of the institution and will be under the direction of Mrs. Bartlett, who will be assisted by several hundred foreigners, giving a vivid exhibition of emigrant life, with foreign music. It will be interesting, entertaining and instructive.

Address to Lecturers.
In order to acquaint foreigners and understand the proper use of the address, the post office department has issued a set of cards bearing a sample address. A reply has been received at the Los Angeles office. On the card are the following instructions: Use ink in addressing letters or other mail matter. Write plainly the name of the person addressed, street and number, post office and state. Place your name and address in the upper left hand corner of the letter or package.

Hughes to Lecture.
"The Fine Art of Living" will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered by Rev. Dr. Matt E. Hughes of Pasadena, at Simpson Auditorium on Friday evening, May 14. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Southern California Epworth League, and it will be the first appearance of Dr. Hughes in the lecture platform in this city. Dr. Hughes has few peers in his subject, appeals to everybody, and C. Gates will preside, and the U. S. Glee Club will sing. Tickets are now on sale at Bartlett's music store.

Help for Blind Singers.
An interdenominational celebration of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, blind singers, will be held in the First Methodist Church on next Monday evening. An appeal is made by the committee of the Church Federation to all churches and individuals who appreciate the gratuitous services of Mr. and Mrs. Baker, to now remember them in a substantial way, as they are in need of help. Money may be sent to W. C. Patterson, vice-president of the First National Bank, who has consented to be treasurer of the fund. An interesting program will be given at the celebration.

Unlabeled Prisoners to be Moved.
The inmates of the Detention Home were removed to a private house when the old building was ordered torn down, and have not been satisfactory. Yesterday arrangements were entered into between Dana Bartlett and Judge Wilbur and the fifteen boys and girls will be removed this week to the Bethlehem branch, at Railroad and Main streets. They will be in charge of O. D. Conroy, who occupies the rooms devoted to a men's hotel and will take their meals at the office club. There is a large hall in a building suitable for the purpose, and Judge Wilbur is considering the advisability of holding the sessions of the Juvenile Court there, instead of at the old building.

Another Fish Story

All this talk about hand tailored "ready-made" suits is a stretch of the imagination. It ready-made suits are such models of perfection as some dealers claim, why does every clothing store in Los Angeles keep a lot of tailors to fit and make over their ready-made garments?

Why not wear individually made to your measure clothes instead of "reluctant" ready-mades? Get the habit—wear B. & K. system made to order clothes—they cost no more than the other kind.

FATHER WILL LEND HIS AID.

Millionaire Greets Daughter
With a Kiss.

Promises Help in Mrs. Shaw's Fight for Son.

Woman Renounces the Man
With Whom She Fleed.

The very much twisted affairs, matrimonial and legal, of Mrs. James P. Shaw, the runaway wife of the Boston railway magnate, took on an entirely new aspect with the arrival here of her millionaire father, H. Fisher Eldridge of Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday afternoon.

The meeting between the elderly rather stern looking New England merchant, and his unconventional daughter, was a most affecting one. Mrs. Shaw came from Santa Barbara to meet her parent, who arrived on the Santa Fe Limited at 6 o'clock.

As the father came down the steps of the Pullman, Mrs. Shaw left the side of H. C. Booth, her attorney, and moved swiftly forward. Directly in front of Mr. Eldridge, she halted, and threw up her head with a gesture of mingled appeal and defiance. She was prepared for a rebuff, but what she saw in the old man's eyes told its own story, and she went straight to his arms. Father and daughter stood for an instant, motionless.

The party gathered for a second at the edge of the platform and held a hurried conference. Later, before they moved off to the carriage which the attorney had in waiting, it was stated that Mrs. Shaw would continue her fight for her son, Eldridge, and hopes for a reconciliation with her husband.

"Things have changed a great deal since the arrival of my father," Mrs. Shaw said last night, before he came. "I feared—well I feared almost anything. I spent fourteen years in an inferno with my husband, but I was willing to go back to him, if by that means alone I could keep my son."

"Now I know that my father is behind me in the fight I shall make, and I feel confident of winning. Father has told me that I may have all the money I need for carrying on the contest for the possession of my boy."

"I won't talk about the matter at all now," said Attorney Booth, when asked for a statement by a newspaper man. "Come to the Hotel Alexandria, and I may give you an interview there." Probably he changed his mind, for neither he nor his clients registered at that hotel. Later, when the party arrived at the Southern Pacific depot to catch the 7:30 train for Santa Barbara, the lawyer was cornered, and induced to say:

"Of course I can give out no idea of the line of fight which I shall take in my contest for the possession of Eldridge, but I may say that with the arrival of Mr. Eldridge, the pressure of the edge of his intentions, I am convinced that I shall have no difficulty in effecting a settlement which will be satisfactory to all concerned. I hope to see Mr. Eldridge and Mrs. Shaw start back for Portsmouth, with the boy in the middle."

Fagged with his long journey across the continent, Mr. Eldridge was disinclined to talk about the details of his daughter's case. "Wait for the outcome," he said, half a dozen times before he finally said:

"I believe that my girl has been wronged. Her married life was anything but a happy one, and while I deeply regret the means she took to end it, I am bound to say that I cannot find very much blame for her in my heart."

"I sincerely hope the stories to her discredit, which the press of the entire country have been printing so lavishly of late, will now be discontinued. I hope the courts will see to it that she gets back her little son, and I believe they will. No, I do not know that she will go back to Portsmouth. Such plans as those are a little too far in the unsettled future, as yet. One thing is sure. Nothing that I can do will be left undone to assure both of our happy future. They have suffered enough."

In answer to a question regarding Mr. Eldridge's attitude, he said: "I must absolutely decline to discuss him at all. There is nothing about this entire matter with which I am not familiar. Mr. Shaw and I met just before I left Boston for the West, and I know his position in regard to his wife and child."

Search is being made for the present whereabouts of Keno Marble, the chauffeur with whom Mrs. Shaw eloped eight months ago, and who disappeared from her apartment in Santa Barbara last Monday. Neither Mrs. Shaw nor her lawyer would talk about Marble yesterday, but it is understood that Mrs. Shaw has thrown him over completely at her father's command.

WELL-KNOWN MASON DEAD.

Prominent in This City Many Years.

But the End Comes in San Francisco.

Charles Otto Scott, who was a prominent Mason in Los Angeles for many years, died in San Francisco yesterday. A telegram announcing his death was received by friends in this city.

Mr. Scott came to Los Angeles over twenty years ago, and became one of the best-known insurance men in this part of the State. He was equally prominent as a Mason, being secretary of the Masonic bodies here. He was a member of Southern California Lodge, No. 278, F. and A. M., and Los Angeles Commandery, Knights Templars. About eight years ago he moved to San Francisco on account of his business interests.

Mr. Scott was 49 years old, and a native of Detroit, Mich. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Clara Scott, and a sister, Mrs. C. S. Holmes.

On account of his many friendships and his associations in this city, the remains will be brought to Los Angeles for burial. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

LISNER BANQUETED.

A considerable number of friends of Meyer Lisner gave a banquet in his honor at the Jonathan Club last night. Joseph Scott acted as toastmaster. Speeches were made by W. B. Stevens, Lee C. Gates, E. C. Moore, Marshall Stinson, J. O. Koepf and T. E. Gibson.

JAPANESE IN PARADE.

Association Plans an Elaborate Float for Floral Festivity of Elks' Great Gathering.

The Japanese Association of this city is planning to enter an elaborate float in the floral parade during Elks' week.

Postmaster Flint received a communication from the committee yesterday stating that the members of the Japanese colony are taking much interest in the coming celebration. The Japanese division of the parade of all nations is expected to be very fine.

Many cities in Southern California and on the Pacific Coast expect to send considerable delegations to represent the municipalities in the parades. So far, Seattle, Santa Ana, Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Colton, Riverside, Pasadena, Hollywood, San Pedro, Long Beach, Venice, Santa Monica, Redondo, Bakerfield, Fresno, and San Bernardino have indicated their intention of entering floats.

A letter has been received from the Louisville lodge stating that a big crowd of Kentuckians will come here in a special train. They will be accommodated at Hotel Hollywood.

SANTA FE PRESIDENT SAYS HE MIGHT FAVOR MOVEMENT.

Discusses Station Project Briefly During Short Stay Here—Road for Sale at "Right Price"—Draze Legislation Puts Stop to Extension of Lines in Oklahoma.

"This is the first I have heard of the suggestion of a union depot for Los Angeles, and I have given the matter no consideration. Until I know the details of the project it will be impossible to say what the Santa Fe will do."

Thus spoke President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe yesterday as a barber deputy lathered his chin. Mr. Ripley had just arrived in Los Angeles for a brief visit prior to returning to Chicago today. He put in a busy day with his department heads, and discussed the union depot proposition with Arthur Letts and others.

Afterward in a barber shop, he talked with a porter. "Don't know what I think of the plan," he said slowly. "Don't know what kind of a basis the other lines might want us to come in on. Until I know this there is nothing to say. If an equitable agreement could be reached we might join in the movement, but must look into it before expressing an opinion."

Mr. Ripley did not enthuse at the idea of locating the union station at the Arcade site, declaring he does not consider that suggestion feasible.

Here the barber got busy and conversation lagged. When the soap had been wiped away, however, and the finishing touches were being applied Mr. Ripley became more communicative.

"The Santa Fe is for sale to any man who has the price," he remarked, to a suggestion credited to E. H. Harriman that he would absorb the Santa Fe when "the time is ripe." "Whether Mr. Harriman has the price or the inclination to buy it, is subject I am not prepared to discuss," said Mr. Ripley.

"I imagine the price would be high, but I am only a hired man; the directors can best say what the price would be."

The Santa Fe's president stated that aside from the work already under way, which includes the practical rebuilding of the track between Los Angeles and Barstow, Barstow and San Francisco and Los Angeles and San Diego, there are no plans for the betterment of the line in California.

"The Santa Fe is already in good condition," he added, "and there is not much to be done. I know of nothing it needs," and he smiled quickly, "unless it is a new president, and I am not figuring on getting out for some time yet."

Mr. Ripley declared that hostility to railroads in various States is preventing a great amount of work and consequent development of the resources of the whole country.

"The people are not giving the railroads a square deal," he said. "They demand everything and are not willing to meet us half way in what is really an equitable and equitable. This sentiment is apparently as strong today as ever and as a result we are doing little in the way of new building or reconstruction. We are keeping up the standard of our lines but can't spend a dollar where it can be avoided."

He termed legislation in Texas and Oklahoma especially vicious and drastic, declaring that the attitude of the lawmakers of those States is doing the Santa Fe more harm than $10,000,000 on proposed new lines.

The Legislature of Oklahoma has decided to pass it up to the people," Mr. Ripley affirmed, "and some modification may be secured, but I do not know, and I cannot say."

"It must be modified if the Santa Fe is to spend another dollar in construction in Oklahoma, for as long as the present Constitution stands unamended there will be no further extension of Santa Fe track in that State."

I have no special objection to the California railroad law just passed," he added, "particularly as against the issuing of licenses. The law in places shows crudity, which will be demonstrated in its operation."

"The line to Eureka, this State, is being considered but nothing definite has been decided upon. It is necessary to keep a party of surveyors in the field on this project all summer. This will prove a most expensive piece of business, costing not less than $100,000 a mile. I cannot say what will be done eventually until I have full reports from the engineers."

BLASTS NAME TO SAVE SON.

Mrs. Mitchell's Sad Tale of Daughter's Disgrace.

Recites Events That Led Up to Thayer Murder.

Slayer Driven to Distraction
by Sister's Shame.

Oh, the pity of it—the heart-wrenching incident of a mother's story of her daughter's shame, told before Judge Willis and a jury yesterday, in a room filled with curious sponge-like women who greedily absorbed the details of evidence unfit for publication, and all given in the hope that it will tend to clear her son from the charge of murder!

It was the testimony of Mrs. Martha Mitchell, at the trial of William C. Mitchell for the murder of Cecil Thayer, in primeval retribution for the wrong done his sister. Mrs. Mitchell is the mother of ten children, the wife of a man who has been an invalid for thirty-three years. She has supported the family, reared the children and ministered to her husband through all his years of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mitchell, parents of the wronged girl and the young man who is on trial for his life for avenging her. The mother was sketched on the witness stand during a trying examination.

In her voice, detailing the wrong to her little daughter, was a strange tragedy of a thousand sorrows; in her manner on the witness stand, through the long hours of her torture, was the agony of despair and a doubled sacrifice to the duties of a wife and mother.

The prosecution, conducted by Deputy Dist. Atty. North, opened its case at 11:30 o'clock in the morning and the first witness called for the defense of the defendant was the mother of the defendant.

In the balance was placed on one side the life or liberty of her son, on the other the love for her daughter. To save the one she must denounce the other; to clear the name of her boy she must damn eternally the reputation of her girl.

GRIEF BOWS HER DOWN. She never faltered. Only twice during the drawn-out agony of her testimony did she break down. Once, while detailing the discovery of her daughter's wrong, she sobbed quietly, sobbing again, when she told of the time she slapped the mother's face when refused permission to go with the youth accused of the wrong.

In an even tone, as if speaking in a trance, the wretched mother bowed under her burden of sorrows and bravely went her way along the path to the crucifixion of her cross-examination.

To save her brother, Ethel Mitchell probably will take the stand late this afternoon or tomorrow and tell of her two years' association with Thayer. Three witnesses completed the case for the prosecution. Arthur Holden and Elmer Herman, boys, told of hearing the shots and seeing Mitchell fire bullets into the body of Cecil Thayer on the evening of January 1, Edward T. Harris of No. 1924 East Fourth street, in front of whose house the tragedy took place, told of seeing the last fatal shots fired, seeing Mitchell walk away, and of his arrest by a policeman, thus establishing complete identification of the defendant as the man who killed Thayer.

All the witnesses stated that Mitchell appeared to be cool and collected in his manner at the time of the shooting.

Cross-examination by Attorney Dehm and Attorney Walter and Pratt for the defense did little to shake the stories of eye witnesses, in spite of certain confessions with their testimony at the preliminary examination of the defendant.

But it was in the afternoon session that interest centered. A great crowd surged about the doors of the small courtroom. Only a comparatively small number could gain admittance. Nearly every seat within the room was occupied by a woman, and not one budged during the session. But a few men gained entrance. Among them was a class from the law school of the University of Southern California.

Attorney Dehm opened the proceedings with his statement to the jury as to what the defense intended to prove. He went over in detail the terrible story of the wrong done to Ethel Mitchell, then only 14 years old; the defiance of her parents by Ethel and the young man who dominated her; the efforts of a heart-broken mother to reclaim her daughter; her failure, and the resultant tragedy.

It was while Attorney Dehm was making his statement that young Mitchell displayed his first emotion. He laid his head on his arms, on the table, between his attorneys and sobbed low, heart-breaking groans of anguish.

MOTHER'S PITIFUL STORY. The direct examination of Mrs. Mitchell was conducted by Mr. Dehm. She gave her age as 54 years. The family came to Los Angeles from Arizona in 1904, her husband suffering from tuberculosis.

JUDGE HUTTON NOT CITIZEN?

Danford, Disbarred Attorney, Makes Queer Charge.

Jurist Says Was Naturalized
in Proper Manner.

Lawyer Petitions Court to Set Aside Judgment.

In an effort to break once more into the practice of law in California, William J. Danford has come forward with the allegation that Judge George H. Hutton is not a naturalized citizen of the United States, therefore not a judge at all, and not entitled to sit in judgment in any case.

It was on the decision of Judge Hutton that Danford was disbarred on the charge of unprofessional conduct. Now the latter has raised a technicality on which he hopes to win.

Judge Hutton laughs at this latest outbreak of Danford, stating that he was duly admitted to citizenship in Minnesota about fifteen years ago. Danford fought bitterly the movement to disbar him, the prosecutors being a committee representing the Los Angeles Bar Association. After the case had been tried out in court, however, the decision went against him and he was obliged to give up his practice here.

In the Superior Court yesterday Danford filed a petition, giving notice that on Friday morning of next week he will move to have the judgment of disbarment set aside and to have it stricken from the files and records of the court.

In his affidavit, Danford sets forth that, while Judge Hutton swore on March 19, 1906, that he was naturalized in Scott county, Minn., such statement is untrue. The disbarred lawyer asserts he has caused a search to be made of the records of Scott county and that they do not show Judge Hutton to have become a citizen.

NOT A CITIZEN. Referring to the action he purposes taking, the petitioner states that the motion will be made on the ground that the said George H. Hutton is not de jure a judge of said court and is not de facto a judge in this proceeding, and never was such, and is without authority or jurisdiction to act as such, and never had such authority and is ineligible to the office of judge and never could qualify therefor, for the reason that said George H. Hutton is not a citizen of the United States.

It is further represented that the said George H. Hutton, October 21, 1891, did in Scott county, Minnesota, declare his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and made oath of allegiance, but that he did not within seven years after the date of declaring his intention as set forth, or at all, become a citizen of the United States, or become an elector or entitled to hold office in the State of California.

Accompanying the affidavit of Danford, is the following telegram signed by W. F. Duffy, of Shakopee, Minn. The message is dated April 23, 1909, and reads thus:

"No record subsequent to October 21, 1891, in this office showing any further naturalization of George H. Hutton. You have received a copy of the only record in this office."

In addition there is a copy of the affidavit signed by George H. Hutton, when registering his vote in this city, March 19, 1906.

JUDGE HUTTON'S STATEMENT.

In reply to the allegations of Danford, Judge Hutton made the following statement last night:

"I was born in Canada. I went to live with my mother's brother, Dr. Brigidman, president of Hamilton University, of St. Paul, Minn., when I was very young. About the year 1889 I took out my first papers and between five and six years later I appeared before Judge Chadwick, then judge of the district Court, residing in Scott county, Minn., and was then and there admitted to full and complete citizenship, and took the oath of allegiance in open court."

"I did everything that was required on both occasions, and if any defect exists, it is merely a clerical defect in the records of that county, and as the judge then presiding, the decision was made. I have been in court as still living, there should be no difficulty about correcting any such clerical defects. I have in my possession, in my safety deposit box at Santa Monica, a certified copy of my certificate of naturalization. This is the first time that the validity of the naturalization has ever been raised, and the first intimation I have had of any defect in the proceeding, and I do not think and such defect exists."

TRAIN FOR DEBATE.

Body of Y.M.C.A. Senior Members Is Organized for Purpose of Public Discussions.

Why Club is the name of a body which has been organized of senior members of the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of discussing live questions of the day and keeping abreast of the times for the practice in public speaking and good fellowship. They propose from time to time to bring up those questions that are of interest to the betterment of the city and national life. Meetings are to be held each Thursday evening.

The membership of the club is open to all members of the association over 18 years of age, and they would be glad to have any visitors who may be interested visit their meetings. A debate is to be held this evening. From time to time they expect to have speakers of note who are well informed on questions of wide interest.

Following named are the officers of the club: Dudley W. Robinson, president; Arthur G. Baker, vice-president; Harold A. Atwater, secretary, and H. W. Sjostrom, treasurer.

'PHONE SYSTEM IN FOREST.

A telephone system, forty miles long, will be installed in the Angeles forest reserve by the order of the Forestry Department. It will connect with stations on eight mountain peaks, affording a speedy method of communicating with the rangers. It is believed the system will more than pay for itself in giving immediate notice of forest fires. Heretofore when a fire has broken out, it took some time to gather the forest rangers at the scene. The line will extend from San Bernardino through the Angeles forest reserve.

A pay streak which goes $40 pound, free milling gold, was discovered a few days ago in the Fort Plain, Yuma county, Arizona, by W. Norton, an old-time prospector and mining man of California, Arizona, who is spending a few days at the Hollenbeck, and samples are showing its value without the usual expenses.

Norton is developing a number of claims in Yuma county and has recently closed two deals of considerable magnitude.

Several showings have been made, but Felix Mayhew, who recently refused $50,000 for a controlling interest in the Amaviscar lead, is working a new vein and shipping lead.

The American Girl, adjoining the property, has resumed, and within the last few days has opened a series of ore. It expects to be running in a short time.
